14.2 Choice of law and dispute resolution. The Agreement is governed by Norwegian law. The parties shall attempt to solve every dispute through informal negotiation and discussion. Formal proceedings should not be commenced until such informal negotiations and discussions are concluded without resolution. If such negotiations and discussions do not result in an amicable settlement, the dispute shall be resolved by arbitration according to the Norwegian act on arbitration. The seat of arbitration shall be in Oslo.

14.3 Force Majeure. If either Party is prevented from performing, or is unable to perform, any of its obligations under this Agreement (other than payment obligations) due to any cause beyond its reasonable control, the affected Party's performance will be excused for the resulting period of delay or inability to perform. Such causes include but are not limited to, war, riots, labour unrest, fire, earthquake, flood, hurricane, other natural disasters and acts of God, Internet service failures or delays, and denial of service attacks and any other circumstance that according to the Norwegian law is considered "force majeure". Each party is entitled to terminate the Agreement with one month's written notice, if the force majeure situation makes it particularly burdensome for such party to maintain the Agreement. Each of the parties shall cover their own costs associated with the ending of the contractual relationship. The Customer shall pay the agreed price for the part of the deliverables that was performed prior to the Agreement coming to an end. The parties may not present other claims against each other due to the Agreement coming to an end pursuant to this provision. The parties shall, in connection with force majeure situations, have a mutual disclosure obligation towards each other concerning all matters that must be deemed relevant to the other party. Such information shall be disclosed as soon as possible.

14.4 Severability. If any provision (or part of a provision) of this Agreement is found by any court or administrative body of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, unenforceable or illegal, the other provisions shall remain in force. If any invalid, unenforceable or illegal provision would be valid, enforceable or legal if some part of it were deleted, the provision shall apply with whatever modification is necessary to give effect to the commercial intention of the Parties. Each of the provisions of this Agreement shall be construed as a separate and independent provision and shall not be limited or restricted by any other provision.

14.5 Transfer. In order to minimize impact to the Customer, Standards Digital is entitled to transfer its rights and obligations pursuant to this Agreement to a third party, for example in the case of a merger or similar. This Agreement does not create a partnership, franchise, joint venture, agency, fiduciary or employment relationship between the parties. Each party will be solely responsible for payment of all compensation owed to its employees, as well as all employment-related taxes.

14.8 Waiver. No failure or delay by either party in exercising any right under this Agreement will constitute a waiver of that right.

14.9 Notices. Notices required under this Agreement are to be sent to the address and persons specified in the related SOW linked to this Agreement. Notices are to be sent in writing by registered post, recorded post, express courier service or be delivered personally.

14.10 Entire Agreement and Order of Precedence. No modification, amendment, or waiver of any provision of this Agreement will be effective unless in writing and signed by the party against whom the modification, amendment or waiver is to be asserted. Notwithstanding any language to the contrary therein, no terms or conditions stated in Customer's purchase order or in any other Customer order documentation will be incorporated into or form any part of this Agreement, and all such terms or conditions will be void. In the event of any conflict or inconsistency among the following documents, the order of precedence shall be: (1) the applicable SOW or Order Form, (2) any exhibit, schedule or addendum to this Agreement and (3) the body of this Agreement.

14.11 Changes to the Agreement. Standards Digital may change the terms and conditions of this Agreement. Customer's sole remedy for breach of the foregoing warranty shall be the prompt re-performance of the deficient services as described and warranted.

12. Limitation of Liability.

In no event shall either party be liable to the other for any indirect, incidental, special, consequential, reliance, cover or lost profits damages, whether in contract or tort, even if the other party has been advised of the possibility of such damages. Neither party's aggregate liability for damages hereunder shall exceed the total amount of fees paid and/or due by Customer for the Support & Maintenance purchased in the 12-month period immediately preceding the event giving rise to liability.

13. Cooperation.

Customer acknowledges that the timely provision of, and Standards Digital’s access to, office accommodations, facilities, equipment, assistance, cooperation, complete and accurate information from its officers, agents and employees, and suitably configured computer equipment may be essential to the satisfactory and timely performance of the Support & Maintenance purchased. Each party shall be solely responsible for payment of all compensation owed to its employees, as well as all employment-related taxes. Each party shall maintain appropriate worker's compensation and general liability insurance for its employees.

15. Subcontractors.

16.2 Choice of law and dispute resolution. The Support and Maintenance Agreement is governed by Norwegian law. The parties shall attempt to solve every dispute through informal negotiation and discussion. Formal proceedings should not be commenced until such informal negotiations and discussions are concluded without resolution. If such negotiations and discussions do not result in an amicable settlement, the dispute shall be resolved by arbitration according to the Norwegian act on arbitration. The seat of arbitration shall be in Oslo.

16.3 Force Majeure. If either Party is prevented from performing, or is unable to perform, any of its obligations under this Support and Maintenance Agreement (other than payment obligations) due to any cause beyond its reasonable control, the affected Party's performance will be excused for the resulting period of delay or inability to perform. Each of the parties shall cover their own costs associated with the ending of the contractual relationship. The Customer shall pay the agreed price for the part of the deliverables that was performed prior to the Support and maintenance Agreement coming to an end. The parties may not present other claims against each other due to the Support and maintenance Agreement coming to an end pursuant to this provision. If any provision (or part of a provision) of this Support and maintenance Agreement is found by any court or administrative body of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, unenforceable or illegal, the other provisions shall remain in force. Each of the provisions of this Support and maintenance Agreement shall be construed as a separate and independent provision and shall not be limited or restricted by any other provision.
